PART 1

How to use the calendar

Sell when your client is already thinking of buying.

Every occasion is a reason to get back in touch with a client. This calendar tells you what to offer each month, which patterns from your collection to use and when to start posting. There's one for the UK and one for Australia and New Zealand: the seasons are reversed, and some dates (like Mother's Day) fall in different months.

- 1 At the start of each month, look at the row for the following month.
- 2 Choose 1 or 2 offers and make a sample to photograph.
- 3 Start posting on the date under "When to start".
- 4 Send that occasion's message (it's in "40 Messages") to your clients.
- 5 Note on the Client Profile who bought what.

Dates that change

Easter, Mothering Sunday (UK), Black Friday, prom and school ball dates change every year and from school to school. Check the exact date as the month approaches.

Important

This guide helps you organize your work; it is not a promise of income. Results depend on your practice, your costs, your prices and your clients' demand.

Next step

Look at next month in your country's table, choose one offer and make the sample this week.
